ATHENS, Greece, March 6.—Loyalist troops opened their final drive today to gain the last vestiges of the East Macedonian front from rebels. Exultant over their success in last night's battle in halting the rebels from the town of Seres, 45 miles northeast of Salonic, the government forces were eager to renew their offensive.

FAIR SEX VOTE TO DECIDE WOMEN STATUS FOR ORDINATION

J. H. OGILVIE
TORY CHOICE
WEST-SIDE

Convention at the Masonic Hall Attended by 472
Delegates

Conservatives, in the most enthusiastic and best attended convention in recent history, yesterday passed a resolution in favour of Mr. Ogilvie as their standard bearer for West Edmonton in the federal election. He was successful over L. V. Cairns, K.C., who, on behalf of the Liberal party, urged that the nomination of the minister in that denomination to the rectory the vote, heartily congratulated the successful candidate and declared the resolution unanimous. This was done by standing vote.

The auditorium of the Masonic temple was crowded with delegates and Conservatives from surrounding districts. There were 472 delegates, vouchored for by party adherents in the hall. It was expected that the turnout would be larger.

A feature of the gathering was the fact that one thousand Conservative, Miss Ross, of the St. Albert district, walked the four miles of snowdrifts to attend.

ALL SECTIONS ATTEND

Representation from every section of the riding was registered at the meeting.

H. R. Milner, K.C., was nominated to speak on behalf of the party with A. Bellous secretary. All presidents of associations in the constituency took part, as did the trustees of the church as well as the sitting members of the provincial legislature.

Religious leaders met in the policies of the Right Hon. R. B. Bennett and D. M. Dugan, M.L.A., president of the Western Alberta Association, who were present.

Then came the business of nominating a candidate. Nomination of Mr. Ogilvie was made by Dr. J. F. McNeil, while Mr. Cairns was nominated by Mr. W. Dixon, K.C.

In his address after nomination Mr. Ogilvie stressed the fact that the members represented by Mr. Bennett were not deathbed representatives, but had been considered views of a great statesman.

QUOTE PREDICTION

In support of this contention, he quoted from a speech delivered by Harry W. Atkinson, editor of the Toronto Globe, the Liberal Bible of Alberta, in which he said: "Mr. Bennett in 1912, when he was a new member of the house of commons."

The statement is as follows: "Let me tell you that if ever this young country reaches a point where it becomes serious and prolonged depression—such a period of hard times and unemployment as we have experienced there then in world history—then those at the helm will have to pay the price for it, for the prodigality of their time. They will have to sit up and take notice of the fact that the hands of the self-centred and predatory interests by whom we are governed are being radixed, cut down, by radical enactments, by revision and reform of the whole capitalistic system, so that it may have a stern significance and more devastating consequences."

This prediction, it was felt, was almost sufficient to place Mr. Bennett among the prophets. He no doubt had in mind the depression which he did not encounter these conditions. But he did not say what would happen if a "serious and prolonged depression" struck this country. Twenty-one years ago he outlined the policy he is advocating today. He has the courage to carry through the reforms which he believes are needed, but he is afraid, through, while other leaders prated about constitutional issues or sought solutions in fantastic dreams."

COVERS "REFORMS"

Mr. Ogilvie, in the ten minutes allowed him to speak, dealt briefly with the reform measures introduced by Mr. Bennett, mentioning the proposed Farm Management Act, extension of the Farm Loans Act, the Marketing Act and the proposed budget to give relief to agriculture.

In an excellent address Mr. Cairns outlined the policies of the Tory government, stressing the fact that the Liberal party, which has the bulk of the seats in the legislature, is not concerned with the social problems of the present.

Mr. Dugan, a leader of the previous party, in a stirring speech urged Conservatives in the riding to support the bill which was elected at the federal election.

"We have a leader we can be proud of in our party," he said. "He has the courage to rectify defects in the present system. A man who is uniting all sections of the community in our leader a man we should be proud of."

He urged the Conservative party in the Dominion and, if not convinced, to support the bill. The holding of the balance of power, the deciding factor in provincial politics.

Other speakers were Col. F. C. Jamieson, R.C. M.L.A.; Dr. W. A. Akers, M.L.A.; John G. Wilson, M.L.A. for Calgary; W. E. Payne, M.L.A. for Red Deer, and Mr. D. Pritchard, president of the Edmonton Women's Conservative As-

United Presbyteries Voting on Issue of Administration Ministry of Delegation.

TORONTO, March 6.—A motion of churchmen from different and other organizations in the United Church of Canada whose presbyteries from coast to coast are voting on the question as to whether women should be admitted to the ministry in that denomination to women as well as men.

If a vote in favor of the ordination of women is cast by two-thirds of the presbyteries of the United Church next year, it is expected that legislation will be introduced in the House of Commons to amend the constitution of the church in that denomination to which women will become effective in 1938.

In the United Church the question of ordination of women was first raised at the Saskatchewan conference in 1934 voted that the church as a whole should proceed to ordain Miss Lydia E. Gruchy to the ministry.

Trustee S. A. Gruchy stated that the trustees had voted to proceed with the matter, and that the church had been awaiting further word from the Board of Education.

Mr. Gruchy, who is a graduate in arts and theology, had served under the Rev. Dr. J. W. Cairns, K.C., in the Methodist Church.

Churchmen from the province of Ontario, who were present, urged that the church should proceed with the matter.

The Things Of The Spirit

By R. G. MITCHELL, K.C.

"There is no wealth but life," wrote Ruskin, at the opening of the greatest world-wide struggle for possession of money and evidences of money which has ever afflicted humanity. The general mass of the British public classed Ruskin as a dreamer—but his words have come true.

In the United States of America in 1935, with ten million people unemployed, and one-half of the total population in financial distress, only question before the government is how and by what means to ensure all the available wealth to the rest of the life of the people. You can be absolutely certain that the rescue movements in the United States cannot be and will not be stopped until, should it prove necessary, the last dollar in the country has been spent. There is no place to park short of resuming the last of the fallen. In the circumstances of the emergency of acute danger, in which the president and cabinet and Congress of the United States cannot think of failure without realizing that failure means annihilation, there is now full realization of Ruskin's great truth, "There is no wealth but life."

In Canada of 1935 with one-eighth of the people of the nation on direct relief, and over sixty per cent of the citizens in hopeless financial straits, the political discussion and the promised action is based on the necessities of national collapse. The gold in the public vaults is only a source of weakness, the want and destitution in the homes of the nation are the active and deadly explosive forces which must be removed, even should it take the last ounce of gold and the last dollar of accumulated wealth to do so. The people are willing to leave at dreadful cost of ruin of human lives, the peril and destruction of refusing to take into account the things of the spirit, and refusing to believe Ruskin's life-governing truth, "There is no wealth but life."

Probably a majority of the readers of this article will have convinced themselves that there are no signs and wonders—and no prophecies. Particulars of the coming judgment themselves that modern man has no human being in the power to make prophecies which will of a certainty come true!

Here is one which, of a certainty, did come true. Surveying North America, as a loud theoretical exponent, coupled with practical race for wealth as the main supposed object for existence, Thomas Carlyle wrote in 1850:

"America, too, will find causes, division-lists, stamp-arrangements and speeches to Bumcombe will not carry men to the immortal gods; that the Washington Congress, and constitutional battle of Kilkenny cats is there, as here, taught for such objects; quite as well as the present, except by the same means. But the substitutional arrangement will require to be fitful thrones, and travails such as few expect yet)—remodelled, abridged, extended, suppressed; torn asunder—put together again, not without heroic labor, and effort quite other than that of the stamp-arranger and the revival preacher, one day."

There is exact truth—expressed in prophecy eighty-five years ago—proven true by everything that is happening in your own lifetime, and in which things you are actually taking part because you have to.

No man can truthfully say that God has good to him, unless and until he is led by the things of the spirit to highly resolve, and in truth so act that resolve, that he will not keep one resource or one loaf of bread, beyond the simplest needs, so long as any one else is starving. Let us all freely confess that none of us measure up to this standard. We are not perfect, but let us all at the same time realize that the things of the spirit have broken through material bounds; that there is no escape from national works of rescue even at the expense of the last copper cent in the nation—and should that last copper cent complete the rescue of the last one needing help we shall have lost anything, but shall have gained the world, because "There is no wealth but life."

CUSTOMS MEN HOLD DINNER

Competing successfully in the civil service of 25 years, and with the system which prevails today, J. W. Duke, president of the Customs Excise Officers Association, delivered an address at the association's annual dinner at the Hotel Corona hotel, where J. W. Sherriff, collector of customs for Edmonton, acted as master of ceremonies.

Mr. Duke, who is also provincial vice-president of the Dominion Customs Officers Association, dealt with salaries, statutory increases, promotions and amendments to the Customs Act, all of which were of vital importance to civil servants, and while he said much was done in the interest of the association through the Civil Service, the gathering were D. Dyer, Harry Clark and J. Thompson.

A Fascinating Picture With ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D.Sc.

A HIGH SCHOOL CLASS ASKS: CAN TIMIDITY BE OVERCOME BY PUBLIC SPEAKING BETTER THAN BY BECOMING DEEPLY INTERESTED IN THE PEOPLE? YES OR NO?

CAN CHARACTER BE DEVELOPED BETTER IN THE CLASSROOM OR IN THE STRIFE AND TURMOIL OF LIFE? YES OR NO?

WOULD THE DIONNE QUINTUPLETS HAVE BEEN ABLE TO SURVIVE HAD THEY BEEN BOYS INSTEAD OF GIRLS? YES OR NO?

DO ALL MORAL QUESTIONS CAN BE ANSWERED WITH ABSOLUTE SCIENTIFIC ACCURACY, BUT NO DECISION AS TO WHAT IS MORALLY RIGHT IS POSSIBLE WITH SCIENCE? YES OR NO?

THESE YOUNGERS HAVE ANSWERED THEIR QUESTION IN THAT THEY DID NOT ASK IT: NO; AS I showed recently in the work of Prof. A. J. Holmes, biologists of the past have shown that boys are considerably more likely to die in war or shortly thereafter than girls. They are also more likely to be killed in war or shortly thereafter than girls—all of whom are the weaker sex.

They are born and brought up by all means. Our chief authorities on new character are built up. Dr. Hartshorne

He says: "I am still more inclined to believe that the wiser sex."

ANN HARDING IN FINE ROLE AT DREAMLAND

Ann Harding's wistful role in "The Fountain" is rated the most moving picture of her whole career. She is the innocent in a romantic triangle. Brian Aherne and Paul Lukas parallel the heart interest of the story. The film is a production of the British Film Corporation.

"The Fountain" tells one of the most powerful love stories ever told. The romantic triangle is solved by big people, in a big way. It is now showing at the Dreamland.

An English aviator (Brian Aherne) is interned in Holland during World War I. He is the guest of a Dutch Baron (Jean Hersholt), whose stepdaughter, Anna (Ann Harding), is his childhood sweetheart. Her husband, Rupert, a German officer (Paul Lukas), is their friend.

The presence of the young British aviator diverts the beautiful Anna from her husband. The aviator learns that Julie respects her husband highly. They are separated for a time while he awaits the return of Rupert with the intention of frankly confessing his love to Anna. She is a mortally wounded and stricken man, pity induces Julie to devote herself to him. This creates an even stronger attraction for his mate, Julie.

Charming and powerful story, from beginning to end, is treated in a big and noble way that is deeply intelligent and highly intuitive.

LIBERAL ASKS ELIMINATION PENSION LEVY

Montgomery Wants Removal 10 P.C. Charge Against Municipalities

In his speech before the session municipal trustees since the advent of the problem and problem of drawing attention to the dire need of revenue facing the municipalities, Mr. Montgomery, Liberal, Wainwright, in the legislature, strongly advocated that the 10 per cent tax of old age pensions now levied against them.

He placed his ideas before the house in an amendment to the pension bill, introduced by Hon. J. Dunn, Liberal, which was defeated. But the old age pensions age had reduced to 60 and in the same bill, Mr. Dunn, Mr. Montgomery stressed the burden of debt hanging over their treasured needs for relief.

Debate was adjourned by Hon. J. Dunn, Liberal, who was not altogether satisfied with Mr. Montgomery's contentions and he moved an amendment which would cast a different light on the subject.

Mr. Montgomery moved his amendment after two other amendments, the original motion had been defeated.

One amendment had been moved by Mr. Dunn, Liberal, and the other by Hector Lang, Liberal, Medicine Hat. Mr. Lang's amendment was supported on a recorded vote of 28 to 10.

Mr. Patterson sought to have brought before the house the increase in rates and extension of the scope of the act to include persons aged 65.

Mr. Lang sought to have those qualified for pensions which became disabled on or before the age of 65 years, or 50 in the case of war veterans, included in these amendments.

Debate, which had been adjourned, was taken up again George MacLachlan, U.P.A., Ponoka, was returned by him.

NEW PRINCIPLE

Mr. MacLachlan considered the sub-amendment introduced a new principle. Mr. MacLachlan reviewed and agreed with the pension activities in the house since the 1927 session. He also touched on the subject of the pension bill.

He read extracts from addresses in Premier R. B. Bennett on unemployment insurance.

Mr. Lang sought to have those qualified for pensions which became disabled on or before the age of 65 years, or 50 in the case of war veterans, included in these amendments.

Debate, which had been adjourned, was taken up again George MacLachlan, U.P.A., Ponoka, was returned by him.

NOT FREE HAND

Continuing, Ald. Fry said: "Supervisors should be given a free hand and not interfere with what they do."

Ald. McKee was interfered with.

He was not given a free hand in his work.

Commissioner David Mitchell:

"There was no interference by me."

Mr. McKee: "I've got no complaints."

The committee then decided to continue the present system of distribution of the funds available at the present, and this recommendation will be made to city council.

The standardized power of a horse is two-thirds of one horsepower. This is the amount of power developed when they tried to indicate the power of their steam engines. They first tried that if a horse could pull a load of 22,000 foot-pounds, then they added another one horsepower and established one horsepower as the standard. It is now the standard of horsepower used in all types of engines, however, develop about twelve horsepower per minute.

CANADIANS WHIP CALGARY IN PLAY-OFF OPENER

They're Crowned New England's Table Tennis Champs

Emily M. Fuller and Sam Silberman, of New York, Capture Titles

D'AT'S PANS
—BILL LEWIS—

Bill Ruffy leading Canadians was easily beaten by the Oliers, galloped to a 3-2 victory over Calgary Jimmies last night in the opening game of the senior amateur hockey finals and thereby established themselves firmly in the lead. The Oliers were won by an Edmonton team for the first time last year when F.C. W. Lewis was manager.

The Canadians were convincingly beaten and a repetition of Canadian dominance in the south tomorrow should clinch the title for the local team.

It was a hard-fought battle, both sides, as Canucks were forced to take at least one of the two losses.

However, there has been a year of upsets in Alberta's hockey playgrounds and the juniors cannot afford to go south Thursday with the same confidence. . . . Drumheller and Lethbridge were both beaten out when they had the best chance in the senior finals, and there is always the possibility of that happening in the present junior series.

I don't think though, they will be too worried about what may face the Jimmies on their home冰... They're determined as can be seen from the way they play and move on into the Western Canada semi-finals and will be heading for another triumph in straight games. There was certainly no doubt as to the quality of the play and here's hoping they can repeat that exhibition.

While Canadians are resting up after their victory and preparing to go to the semi-final, the Superiors are now nearing Coleman where they open the provincial final on Saturday. They can be sure they'll have a tough battle on their hands with the Jimmies, who are also in the semi-final.

In the National Hockey League got a real shock last night when the Canadians over Montreal Les Canadiens.

That's the highest score to be recorded in the NHL in 10 months, not since early in the season, as a matter of fact, has anyone scored more than a single goal in the major loop.

It just goes to show, though, that nothing is impossible when you're on one of their scoring streets. . . . Unfortunately for them, the Jimmies, who didn't often come out of the pack in the playoffs, were a win at that.

IMPERIAL SIX WINS SECOND PLAY-OFF TILT

Eliminates Innisfree in Two Games Advancing To Final Series

INNISFREE, March 6—Those classic Imperialists advanced still another step toward the senior amateur hockey final in the Juvenile Hockey Division. They secured their second straight triumph over Innisfree, this time by a 5-1 score. The Oliers took the first game 15-0 and the second 5-1, both games being shutouts.

The Canadians were convincingly beaten and a repetition of Canadian dominance in the south tomorrow should clinch the title for the local team.

It was the second game that Telstar got the lone Innisfree tally.

Again, in the third period Imperialists scored twice, while Innisfree, opening the scoring on May's pass, Bert Laurie with a goal, went through for unassisted markers.

Data for the provincial finals have been set and the 1935 Alberta and southern champions will be in action before many more sunsets.

Two FANS GIVE HOPEFULS SUPPORT

A few more than 3,000 fans saw the locals sweep to a two-goal lead in the first period and one more in the second, and then complete the scoring with a brace more in the third, while weakly Calgary responded with two goals, not worth gained.

Paul DEAN

BRADENTON, Fla., March 6—Paul Deane, 18, of the St. Louis Cardinals' sensational pitcher duo of last season, was a guest at the Bradenton stadium after a short conference with Sam Braden. SASKATOON SEEKS FIRST PLAYDOWNS

Wesleys Meet Vancouver Gets Underway

SASKATOON, March 6—According to word received here Tuesday this city will be the scene of the first round of the Provincial junior title, and ex-King George of Vancouver will be the competing team.

The Wesleys, who played at the Stadium Saturday night and the following Monday, while the competition has been completed for the first contest in the best two out of three.

Tod Allard, Canadian player, making his way to the new arena, said he expected the Wesleys to be the first to play in his first year of the front team.

He said the Wesleys had been beaten by the front Allard may not be playing this Friday.

It was in this second period that the Wesleys got their first win and the players battled bitterly for the verdict—one which Canadians had been seeking in the best two out of three.

The above plans were arranged by George Gilroy, president of the C.A.H.A. The eventual winners meet the Allard team in the final of the Western semi-final.

"Cyclone" Taylor, rated by many as the fastest player to ever don the bobsled, has been appointed to referee the final.

Canadians produce their best form

In taking their decisive victory, Canadians produced their best form.

Goalie Muirly made his rugged defense mates out front. Harry Batehouse, who has been a star all season, played a great game in the rear-guard, and in the front ranks he was a terror to the opposition.

That line of Ed. Donald, center, Bill Batchelor left wing and Leo Lemire right wing, was stopped by two Calgary defense men, Shandlock, a fast skating w.r.c. and Shannan, a slow skater.

The puck, however, slipped ahead of the front line and Donald literally snatched his way through the Calgary defense, stepped a partner past to Donald and from there on in, Donald and McQueen had no possible chance on the ice.

Early in the final frame Canadians again went on a two-goal run, and the Wesleys responded for his second goal and third point.

Carrying the greater part of the play, Robertson, a fast skating w.r.c. "Shannan" battled his way over the Calgary blue line, stickhandled around the front line and was stopped by two Calgary defense men, Shandlock, a fast skating w.r.c. and Shannan, a slow skater.
